Dear Shri Niranjanji

With reference to our last meeting with Hon'ble Chief Secretary under the subject of Study Technical Group of High Rise Committee held on June 27 2013 in Mantralaya, I discussed various issues related to the High Rise Committee. In that meeting Chief Secretary suggested that, state government will study the norms which are followed by international countries like UAE, Japan, Malaysia, Singapore, USA etc.

Since your Co. has completed some major High Rise Projects in U.A.E. may I request you to please provide us the details and whatever standards, norms, as per the law and rules thereof in UAE, available while scrutinizing the real estate proposals/projects in order to have Structural Stability/Safety and Fire Safety provisions for the High Rises there.

Please send us the standards and norms, the legal regime, followed by local government authorities in UAE which are being observed for these two important parameters. We have to provide this information to the Urban Development Department through which our real estate projects would be considered by the Urban Development Department, Government of Maharashtra here.

I will be grateful if you could send us the information at your earliest convenience.

Thanking you,

With best regards,

S. S. Hussain
